

Revolutionize your reimbursement support with Stratis Field Reimbursement Managers

Trained, certified, and equipped with decades of experience, our Field Reimbursement Managers are ready to streamline your market access operations.

The market landscape in healthcare is changing rapidly as pharmaceutical companies try to keep pace with today's complex reimbursement environment. The role of the Field Reimbursement Manager (FRM) has taken priority to ensure patients can access important medications and navigate a complex journey to high-cost specialty medications. How do you ensure you are staffing your field team appropriately to deploy fast and flexible solutions? Outsourcing your Field Reimbursement Team provides the flexibility to your organization as the payer landscape evolves during a product's life cycle and need for reimbursement support changes.
